ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT LEARNING

INTRODUCTION TO ASSESSMENT AT ANOKA-RAMSEY COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Each program of study has well-defined goals for student learning. The guide sheets for each program are located in the Counseling and Advising offices and in the Academic Catalog available online at <http://www.anokaramsey.edu/News/AcademicCatalog.aspx>. The program goals describe the knowledge, skills, and abilities that students will develop during the course of their program of study. The College is committed to a comprehensive program of assessment in which program evaluation is based upon how well students achieve the articulated goals for student learning. This assessment process helps to improve our academic programs by identifying strengths and opportunities for improvement.

Goals for student learning are defined at the college level (Guiding Principles) and within each academic program of study (Program Goals, e.g., A.A. in Liberal Arts and Sciences, A.S. in Accounting, A.A.S. in Physical Therapy Assistant, etc.). Developmental Education, Student Services, and Continuing Education/Customized Training programs also have distinct goals.

Student competencies flow from the program goals but are more focused in nature. These competencies are written as measurable learning outcomes and generally are tied to individual courses within a program, or strategies for improvement in non-academic situations. Students are assessed on these larger and smaller goals through a variety of direct and indirect measures at various points during their program. Student levels of achievement on these competencies suggest places where the curriculum is strong, and also where improvements may be needed. Program changes and curriculum modifications that improve student learning spring from these assessment results.

ASSESSMENT IMPLEMENTATION

Extensive assessment information is available on the College web site, including background information on assessment, resource materials for developing assessment methods, and examples of assessment tools that have been used at the College. Hard copies of previous years' assessment handbooks are also available to faculty upon request. Each faculty member should contribute to the continual development and implementation of assessment plans within his or her program. Additionally, several faculty members serve as Student Outcomes Coaches each year to assist with program assessment processes.

The process of assessment is cyclical, with assessment results informing the decision making process, which leads to continuous assessment and continuous program improvement. An effective assessment program includes these important steps:

Program Goals: Examine whether program goals are consistent with the College Mission and professional standards for the program.

Student Competencies: Develop measurable learning outcomes for each program goal.

Measurement Points: Determine points within the program at which the student competencies can be measured.

Measurement Tools: Develop tools to measure student competencies in an objective and reliable way. A Direct Measure involves an assessment of student performance (e.g., paper, project, exam, demonstration). An Indirect

Measure is a way of measuring student learning by asking students or others to report on perceived learning (e.g., student survey, employer survey, faculty survey).

Data Collection: Collect data within existing course activities (e.g., assignments or exams). Faculty members use the agreed-upon measurement tools to rate students in selected sections on selected goals and competencies, which may rotate from semester to semester or year to year.

Data Review: Review the results of assessments with program faculty to identify strengths and weaknesses. Student achievements are compared to goals or benchmarks for student learning and strategies to improve learning are then developed.

Implement Change: Implement recommended changes based upon results and then assess the changes in the next round of assessment.

NOTE: If there are no changes in program goals or measurement tools, the process continues to cycle through the remaining steps.

GRADES

GRADING SYSTEM

A:	Superior Achievement
B:	Above Average Achievement
C:	Average Achievement
D:	Below Average Achievement
F:	Inadequate Achievement (For courses numbered 1000 or above)
NC:	No Credit (Only for courses numbered below 1000 and Competency Based Education courses)
I:	Incomplete (Written agreement between instructor and student)
AU:	Audit (Student Initiated)
W:	Withdrawal (Student Initiated)
P:	Passing, i.e., average achievement with "C" or better
Z:	Final grade not submitted by instructor, class is not graded (for most zero-credit courses)

Anoka-Ramsey Community College accepts “whole” grades. “Shaded” grades of + or - are not accepted. Grades entered with + or - symbols are automatically truncated into whole grades (A, B, C, D or F). Grades must be submitted online within four days of the last class, by 11:59 PM (see Appendix A – Appendices are located under N:ARCC Public:FORMS:Faculty Handbook).

Anoka-Ramsey Community College uses the following grading system:

AUDIT

An audit must be requested by the student at the time of registration. A grade of "AU" is entered into the computer at the time of the audit registration and should appear on the final grade roll at the end of the semester. Instructors may not enter a grade of "AU" or change a computer-printed grade of "AU." If you feel that a grade of "AU" should or should not have been assigned, please discuss the matter with the Dean for that discipline.

GRADE CHANGE

When an instructor requests a grade change for a student, the instructor must complete the online grade submission form. Instructions can be found on <http://anokaramsey.edu/employeehome/FacultyResources.aspx>, click on Faculty eGrade Change Submission Documentation.

INCOMPLETE

An Incomplete is a temporary grade based on a written agreement between a student and faculty. The “I” grade is reserved for situations in which the student has satisfactorily completed most of the work (though this may vary by course and instructor, approximately 75% is offered as a general guideline for faculty in determining eligibility for the issuance of an Incomplete) of the course, but for nonacademic reasons beyond his or her control, has not been able to complete a small portion of the course work before the end of the semester. The instructor, when assigning the “I” grade, assumes responsibility for assisting the student in completing the remaining portion of the course outside of any formal class structure and agrees to do so without additional remuneration.

Each “I” grade requires the submission of the “Record of Incomplete Grade” form to the Records and Registration Office. The Incomplete Grade Form is available online for faculty members only at <http://www.anokaramsey.edu/employeehome/FacultyResources.aspx>. This form must be signed by both the student and instructor. The form outlines the agreement between the student and instructor about when and how the remaining final requirements of the course will be met. It includes what must be completed and specifies a date by which the work must be completed.

All incomplete grades should be made up as soon as possible, but students have one semester (or less) to complete the work, excluding summer session. An incomplete grade not removed within one semester will be recorded as an “F” grade. If a student with an “I” grade re-enrolls in the course prior to the removal of the “I” grade, the student will receive an “F” in place of the “I” grade. Students who are attempting to complete an “I” grade should not be allowed to sit in on the instructor’s class the subsequent semester to repeat the appropriate material.

PASSING GRADE

If a student wishes to receive a "P" grade, the student must arrange with the instructor prior to the instructor's stated deadline to take the course on a Pass/Fail basis. Deadline to request this grading option should be clearly stated on the syllabus. The "P" grade is defined to be a grade of "C" or better. A "P" grade is applicable to any course as determined by the instructor. It is not used in the calculation of the grade point average.

GRADE APPEALS

Students have the right to appeal unfair or arbitrary grades. A student must first talk with his or her instructor. If satisfaction is not reached, the student should move through the complaint process.

Grading decisions supported by published policies or written expectations of faculty are not open to appeal.

GRADE ROSTERS

All grading at Anoka-Ramsey Community College is completed online. Please refer to the Real-Time Web Grading Instructions in Appendix A.

LAST DATE OF ATTENDANCE

Instructors are required to enter the last date of attendance (LDA) for students who will receive a grade of “F” or “NC”. If the student NEVER attended, click on the “Never Attended” button on the class grade list. If the student attended through the entire semester, please enter the last meeting date of the course. If the student stopped attending during the semester/course, please record the last date you have on record of attendance or class participation (see Attendance Policy). The LDA should be entered as soon as faculty determines it is no longer possible to pass their course after a pre-determined number of absences. Faculty should list on their syllabus how many absences will jeopardize the student’s grade to the point where they can no longer pass the course. The college does not automatically drop students for not attending class. If the student chooses to return to class after the LDA has been entered faculty must contact the records and registration office to remove the LDA.

Last Date of Attendance (LDA) reporting for online courses: In a distance education context, documenting that a student has logged into an online class is not sufficient, by itself, to demonstrate academic attendance by the student. A school must demonstrate that a student participated in class or was otherwise engaged in an academically related activity, such as by contributing to an online discussion or initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a course-related question.

Academically related activities include but are not limited to:

- physically attending a class where there is an opportunity for direct interaction between the instructor and students;
- submitting an academic assignment;
- taking an exam, an interactive tutorial or computer-assisted instruction;
- attending a study group that is assigned by the school;
- participating in an online discussion about academic matters; and
- initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a question about the academic subject studied in the course.

For additional information, please visit Grading Instructions for Real-time Web Grading at <http://www.anokaramsey.edu/en/employeeshome/FacultyResources.aspx>.

WITHDRAWAL

Federal regulations require the financial aid office to document a student attended/participated in at least one day of their classes. Because a student withdraws themselves from their class/es, no LDA is reported. Therefore, the Financial Aid office may contact the instructors, via their Anoka Ramsey email account, of the classes students withdraw from to confirm actual attendance.

The student initiates a withdrawal by either completing the online withdrawal transaction or submitting a written request to the Records and Registration Office. Students may withdraw from classes that meet throughout the semester before no more than approximately 80% of the course is complete. Withdrawal deadlines vary for classes that meet less than the complete semester. Consult the course notes located in the web schedule online for information about varying withdrawal deadlines.

Even though a student withdraws from a class, they remain on the roster. A withdrawn student does not open up a seat in a full class, nor does it entitle the student to a refund of tuition. Faculty members should not advise or allow students who are not officially registered to attend classes where enrollment has reached capacity. Withdrawals do not create vacancies for additional students.

Faculty members should provide students with timely information about their standing within the class before the last day for withdrawal. A grade of "W" is entered into the computer when the student withdraws and should appear on the final grade roster at the end of the semester. Instructors may not enter a grade of "W" or change a computer-printed grade of "W." If you believe that a grade of "W" is listed/not listed in error, please consult with the Records and Registration Office.

For a student who has withdrawn from an online class, please follow these steps to view his or her participation (grades) in the course: 1) From your class list, click on the "Report" button; 2) Find the name of the student whose grades you'd like to review. 3) Click the view grades icon, which will bring you to a page that lists the grades that are archived within D2L. If you need more data regarding a particular student's progress, the D2L staff will need to manually enroll the student during the period of review and un-enroll them when the review is complete. Contact Rita Resendiz, Academic Technology Designer (763.433.1135) or the IT Helpdesk (763.433.1510) for assistance with this.

GRADING REQUIREMENTS

Grades for full-term courses are to be posted electronically, no later than 11:59 p.m., four calendar days (including weekends and holidays) following the last day of the term. For short courses that meet at least three weeks, but less than the full term, grades are to be posted four calendar days after the last class day. Grade deadlines are posted to the Faculty Resources page at <http://www.anokaramsey.edu/employeehome/FacultyResources.aspx>. Refer to Appendix A for Real-Time Web Grading instructions.

Grading Options:

Grading options include A, B, C, D, F, P, NC or I.* Plus or minus grades are not recognized at Anoka-Ramsey. If you include a plus or minus, it will not appear in the student's record when they are loaded from your grading screen to the student database.

To report inadequate achievement, F grades may only be assigned to courses numbered 1000 or above; NC grades may only be assigned to courses numbered below 1000. If you inadvertently assign an F to a developmental course, the grade will be changed to an NC.

*An "I" requires that an "Agreement of Incomplete Grade" form be submitted to the Records Office (without the required Agreement of Incomplete Grade, an F or NC will be recorded in place of the "I"). This form, located online at <https://www.anokaramsey.edu/faculty/incomplete.cfm> , must be signed by both the instructor and the student.

Letter grades of AU and W, are initiated by the student and may not be reported by the instructor.

STUDENT RECORDS

CONFIDENTIALITY OF STUDENT RECORDS

Under no circumstances should faculty release student performance and student achievement information to anyone outside the College. Requests from other colleges should be referred to the Records and Registration Office; written authorization from the student is required for release of any private or confidential data including address and telephone number.

Please remember that a spouse, parent, or other family member may not be granted access to private or confidential data, regardless of the student's age, unless the student has completed a Consent to Release Private Information form. Please refer persons with such inquiries to the Dean of Student Life.

NOTE: Under the data privacy requirements, any student grades that are posted may not be posted by student ID number, name, or social security numbers.

STUDENT ACADEMIC PROGRESS

Students should be provided with frequent information about their academic progress in the course. Faculty are encouraged to refer students making less than satisfactory progress to the Academic Alert Program offered by Educational Services, or to Counseling/Advising services. Please contact Anna Mousslitchouk at 763.422.1326 or anna.mousslitchouk@anokaramsey.edu for information on how to submit an academic alert. Letters are sent throughout the semester. Please refer to Appendix B1 for instructions on how to submit Academic Alerts and Appendix B2 to view a sample Academic Alert letter.

STUDENT PETITIONS

A student with unusual circumstances, which may warrant a departure from established college policies, may file a Request of Extenuating Circumstances petition with the Business Office. Upon full review of the petition and necessary documentation a decision will be made by the appropriate Business office administrator.

Students who seek redress from application or interpretation of College rules and regulations should be directed to consult the Student Handbook or College Web site for further information.

CLASS OPERATIONS

ADJUSTMENTS IN CLASS TIME AND ROOM

Changes in class meeting location and/or class time can only be made by the appropriate Dean.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Each instructor should establish an attendance policy for his or her class. This policy should clearly equate a student's attendance with his or her ability to accomplish course objectives and is to be part of the course syllabus. It is important that written attendance records are kept to document student's lack of attendance, particularly when attendance is a component of the student's grade.

Students should be encouraged to see an academic advisor if their poor attendance may result in their failing the course. Students can find information on withdrawal from a course at <http://www.anokaramsey.edu/student/Registration/AddDropWithdraw.aspx> (Note: Short or late-start courses have different withdrawal dates. Exact dates for these courses are listed in the Course Notes section in the online web schedule).

As Anoka-Ramsey Community College students receive Title IV (Federal Funds) for financial aid, the institution is required to track attendance of financial aid recipients. You will be asked to verify the Last Date of Attendance (LDA) for students who receive an "F" or "NC" for the course (see Appendix A for complete LDA instructions). Please check your class list at www.anokaramsey.edu on a regular basis and report non-attendance on your class rosters, as well as file an Academic Alert as necessary.

Last Date of Attendance (LDA) reporting for online courses: In a distance education context, documenting that a student has logged into an online class is not sufficient, by itself, to demonstrate academic attendance by the student. A school must demonstrate that a student participated in class or was otherwise engaged in an academically related activity, such as by contributing to an online discussion or initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a course-related question.

Academically related activities include but are not limited to:

- physically attending a class where there is an opportunity for direct interaction between the instructor and students;
- submitting an academic assignment;
- taking an exam, an interactive tutorial or computer-assisted instruction;
- attending a study group that is assigned by the school;
- participating in an online discussion about academic matters; and
- initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a question about the academic subject studied in the course.

CATALOG DESCRIPTION

The catalog description gives a description of a course including the title, course number, and credits awarded. It also indicates the Minnesota Transfer Curriculum (MnTC) goal area(s) the course satisfies, if any, and any prerequisite requirements.

COMMON COURSE OUTLINE

All courses must be taught in accordance with the approved objectives listed on the Common Course Outline (CCO). It is accepted that instructors' pedagogical techniques vary and that course objectives will consequently be approached in unique ways. While a variety of individual pedagogical approaches are encouraged and supported to allow for the individualism of each instructor, it is expected that those pedagogical approaches will be focused on achieving the objectives of the course as contained in the Common Course Outline. Common Course Outlines are available to faculty in an electronic format at: N:\EdServices\CCO. Faculty are encouraged to review and make recommendations for updating Common Course Outlines at least every 3 years.

CHEATING AND PLAGIARISM

Cheating and plagiarism are not tolerated. Violation of the policy may result in a grade of "F" for the assignment or possibly the class. For the benefit of students and instructors, instructors are strongly encouraged to include their individual policy on cheating and plagiarism as part of their syllabi; please include within this policy how cheating and plagiarism will affect the student's grade. To protect instructors in the case of student grievances and to support the process of progressive discipline, instructors are encouraged to document all infractions and to share those documents with the Dean of Student Life.

CLASS BREAKS

A class hour is fifty minutes long. The remaining ten minutes is typically used to provide an opportunity for a break for longer classes. A general rule is that classes of two or more hours should plan for at least one ten-minute break. The instructor plans when the breaks occur and how long they will last. Be prepared to teach the entire class period.

CLASS CANCELLATION

Classes may only be cancelled by the appropriate Dean of Educational Services or the Vice President of Academic and Student Affairs. If the faculty will be absent and wishes to communicate information about their class, it is the instructor's responsibility to email the students.

If the campus where your class is scheduled is closed due to weather or other emergency, your class will not meet. Announcements are made over WCCO radio (830 AM), on the College Web site, email, and a recording on the College phone system (x-1100). Instructors teaching off campus should call their specific off-campus site to verify whether the site is open in case of inclement weather. If the site is closed, classes will not be held.

CLASS FEES

No class shall incur supply fees that have not been paid at the time of registration.

CLASS ROSTERS

Prior to the first day of class, please access your class roster through the web (see Appendix A). Updated class lists are available electronically throughout the semester. Please check, especially during the first week of class, that students whose names are not on your class list are indeed registered and in the correct class. Students who are sitting in a full class hoping for a space to open up should not be allowed to sit in the class beyond its first meeting.

You will be asked to verify the Last Date of Attendance (LDA) for students who will receive an “F” or “NC” for the course. Please check your class lists on a regular basis throughout the term.

During the third week of classes, please download a Tenth Day Class List; this is the official class list. Please check it against class attendance. If you discover that a student is not on your class list, the student should be instructed to go to the Records and Registration Office immediately. If by the third week of classes you find a student on the Tenth Day Class List that has never attended/participated, please select the “Never Attended” button on the class grade list.

CLASS SIZE

Approved class maximum enrollments will be adhered to. Under exceptional circumstances, an instructor may recommend admission of two (2) additional students per section. Students must then complete a Registration Course Request, including instructor’s signature. The request will then be considered by the Records and Registration office. This form is located on <http://www.anokaramsey.edu/resources/~media/Files/Resources/Records/Registration%20Course%20%20Request%2005%2022%2013.ashx> . If the class is or can be waitlisted, you should let the student know that if there is already a waitlist on the course, the student will have to add themselves to the waitlist. We cannot add students who are not on the waitlist for courses that have this option. The waitlist function is discontinued 5 days before the semester begins.

COPYRIGHT REQUIREMENTS

The College strongly supports and enforces copyright laws. It is the responsibility of the faculty member to ensure that the materials to be used, embedded, posted, or reproduced fall within the "fair use" guideline of the copyright law. More information on this topic is available at <http://www.copyright.gov/fls/fl102.html>. A copyright checklist is to be attached to all requests for duplication. The checklist is available on the College Web site, from Central Services, or from any faculty assistant (see Appendix C).

FIELD TRIPS

Field trips are permitted but require prior submission of field trip forms (see Appendix D). Forms should be submitted to the appropriate Dean of Educational Services.

FINAL EXAMS

Cambridge Campus

Each instructor is expected to use the last class period for a final exam or final class meeting.

Coon Rapids Campus

Each instructor is expected to give a final exam or meet the class at the time scheduled for the final exam. The final exam schedule is available online at the Calendar of Events page located at <https://www.anokaramsey.edu/employeehome/~media/Files/Events/Final%20Exam%20Schedule.ashx> Any changes to the final exam schedule must be approved and coordinated through the Educational Services Office. Faculty members are then responsible for communicating any changes to their students.

GREEN DOT TOOLKIT

The Green Dot Toolkit includes ideas, assignments, and resources ARCC faculty members can use to help end violence in our college community. The Toolkit, adapted from Dorothy J. Edwards, Ph.D., University of Kentucky and prepared by the ARCC Counseling Department, can be reviewed online at <http://www.anokaramsey.edu/resources/Counseling/GreenDot/FacultyResources.aspx> or in Appendix E.

GUEST LECTURERS

At times, individuals with special expertise may be invited as guest lecturers. Funds for guest lecturers come from discipline budgets, and payments for guest lecturers should be approved by the appropriate Dean of Educational Services prior to formally inviting the lecturer. An internal requisition form located at N:\ARCC Public\FORMS, must be submitted for a purchase order to your dean, and following that, a Guest Lecturer/Presenter Agreement contract needs to be completed and submitted to the appropriate Dean (see Appendix F).

The most updated version of this form can be found under Contract Forms on the MnSCU website at <http://www.finance.mnscu.edu/contracts-purchasing/contracts/forms/index.html>.

INDEPENDENT STUDY

The purpose of Independent Study is to offer a student the opportunity to do extensive reading or research on a specific topic that is not offered as a part of a regular course. Independent Study is not offered for any course listed in the Academic Catalog. The student must have successfully completed a minimum of two courses in the discipline before submitting a request, using the Independent Study Form (available from the Educational Services Office, see Appendix G). All independent studies must be approved by a Dean of Educational Services before they can be offered.

INSTRUCTOR ATTENDANCE

Instructors are expected to attend all scheduled classes during the entire time period scheduled. If you are unable to attend class for some reason and time allows, attempts to find a substitute may be made by the Dean. Instructors may not make arrangements for a substitute without first receiving approval from the appropriate Dean. Failure to secure approval may mean that the substitute will not be paid.

To report your absence, please call the faculty support line, Cambridge Campus (763.433.1965) or Coon Rapids Campus (763.433.1375) or email facultysupport@anokaramsey.edu. Provide your name, the course title, the location and time of the class and ~~the time~~, ask that notification of your absence be posted on your classroom and office doors. Please request to be transferred to your Dean's phone so you may inform him or her of your absence. If due to unforeseen circumstances you will be late for class, follow the same procedure so that your students may be notified of the delay. If the faculty will be absent and wishes to communicate information about their class, it is the instructor's responsibility to email the students.

Faculty must submit a Request to be Absent through the e-timesheet process as soon as possible for each absence; e-timesheet is found on the website under Human Resources at e-timesheet,

LATE REGISTRATIONS

Students are permitted to register through the first five days of the semester for most classes. For short classes or classes that begin after the first week of any term, students may register through the first class meeting. Late registrants are responsible for all the material in the course including the material presented before their registration. Please communicate to all late registrants if and how this might impact their ability to succeed in your class.

LEARNER OUTCOMES

All faculty are expected to participate in developing goals, rubrics, and measures for assessing student learning. Assessment of student learning will be facilitated by faculty assessment coordinators.

OFFICE HOURS

The MSCF Master Agreement states: “Each instructor shall post and maintain one (1) office hour or one (1) hour of student availability in some other campus location per week for each three (3) credits taught to a maximum of fifteen (15) credits. Additional office hours or student availability may be scheduled at the instructor’s option.”

If a faculty member’s entire assignment is online, the office hours can be held online. If the entire assignment is onsite, the office hours are held onsite. If the assignment is mixed, the office hour locations are mixed in reasonable proportions to allow for faculty availability to students. The intention is to create a rational mix for student needs, not an exact mathematical proportionality. In short, the location—online or onsite—of office hours tracks generally with an instructor’s assignment.

ONLINE COURSES

Media Code 09 - Blended/Hybrid

These courses blend online and face-to-face delivery, resulting in reduced classroom seat time. The course has more than two face-to-face meetings per term.

Media Code 03 – Internet Delivered Course

Nearly all course activity occurs in an online environment, some of which may be synchronous, i.e. scheduled online at a specific time. One to two maximum activities may occur face-to-face in the same physical location. The course may also have required proctored exams, in addition to the face-to-face meetings. Proctored exams count as one of the two allowed face-to-face meetings if the full class is required to take the exam at a specified time and location.

Media Code 12- Completely Online-Asynchronous

All instruction is delivered online. There are no face-to-face meetings, no proctored exam requirements, and no required synchronous meetings.

Media Code 13- Completely Online-Synchronous Meetings

All instruction is delivered online. There are no face-to-face meetings and no proctored exam requirements, but there are required online synchronous meetings (class meets online at a specified time and day).

PREREQUISITES

Students are responsible for successfully meeting course prerequisites. If you, the instructor, have a question about whether a student has completed prerequisite coursework, please conduct a private conversation with the student and then refer the student to the Dean. The student will need to provide evidence/documentation of completed prerequisite coursework to the Dean. Unless directed by a Dean, the instructor should not ask the student to leave the class for failing to meet prerequisite coursework.

RETENTION OF FINAL EXAMS

Final exam retention should be in accordance with ARCC Records Retention Policy, which states that faculty should retain final examinations for one year from the end of the semester.

SERVICE LEARNING

ARCC encourages students to engage in service learning opportunities that positively change an individual, organization, and/or neighborhood within our community by connecting the service experience to academic learning. Student's values and beliefs are challenged and changed while enhancing their academic understanding, civic development, personal or career growth and/or understanding of larger social issues. Service learning prepares students for an increasingly global society with knowledge and skills. visit the shared drive at N:\Faculty\Service-Learning to locate the Faculty Handbook for Retention Through Service-Learning, program forms, and a complete listing of service-learning opportunities.

STUDENT CONDUCT

ARCC has established a "Student Conduct Code" to govern the behavior of students. This code is located at <http://www.anokaramsey.edu/about/Information/Policies/Chapter3/3F1.aspx>. If a disciplinary problem arises in your classroom, the problem should be reported to the Dean of Student Life by submitting a completed Student Conduct Violation form (see Appendix I).

STUDENTS WITH LEARNING DISABILITIES

ARCC is committed to helping students with disabilities. At times, this may mean that you will be requested to provide accommodations for a student in your class. All arrangements for accommodation will be made by the student through:

Linnea Janas: Coordinator of Disability Services
Office: Coon Rapids L124
Phone: 763.433.1903
Email: Linnea.Janas@anokaramsey.edu

Do not provide accommodations to a student who has not presented you with a formal request signed by Linnea Janas. If you have any concerns or questions about what is being asked of you, please contact a Dean.

SYLLABUS

The course syllabus is an expansion of the Common Course Outline that includes course details relevant to the instructor, the textbook used, and the semester offered. According to MnSCU policy 3.22, a syllabus must be given to all registered students within a maximum of one week from the first class meeting. This pertains to online classes as well. According to ARCC policy 3G.1, a syllabus must be submitted to the Educational Services Office the first week of class. For classes offered through the Cambridge Campus, send an electronic copy of your syllabus to Pamela Peterson (Pamela.Peterson@anokaramsey.edu). For classes offered through the Coon Rapids Campus, send an electronic copy of your syllabus to Valerie Knight (Valerie.Knight@anokaramsey.edu).

The syllabus includes a description of the course, including title and number of credits, the grading policy, the instructor's attendance policy, course materials such as texts and supplements, and information on when, where, and how the instructor will be available to students outside class. You are encouraged to include a statement regarding the use of student email accounts as a primary form of communication, include your policy for making up missed work and your policy on cheating and plagiarism in your syllabus, and a statement about the availability of Disability Services by contacting Linnea Janas at 763.433.1903. You are also strongly encouraged to include your policy for making up missed work, your policy on cheating and plagiarism, and a “Green Dot” culture of safety statement (see Appendix J) in your syllabus.

Copies of previously used course syllabi may be requested from the author and assistance with writing course syllabi is available from your Dean. See Appendix K1 for a syllabus checklist and Appendix K2 for a sample syllabus. This is a sample format for constructing a syllabus; it may or may not work for you. It is simply one common approach for those who would like some guidance in putting together a comprehensive course syllabus.

When saving your syllabus for forwarding to Pam Peterson or Valerie Knight, please name the file in this format: DEPT 1234 Swanson (Discipline, Course Number, Instructor Name), and add the following statement to the top of the document:

This syllabus is to be used for transfer purposes only and is the intellectual property of the instructor.

TEXTBOOKS

Each faculty member is permitted to select his or her own textbook. See Appendix L1 – Coon Rapids Campus or Appendix L2 – Cambridge Campus for the Textbook Requisition Form. Textbook requisitions are due on the following dates:

- Fall Semester – April 15
- Spring Semester – October 15
- Summer Semester – March 15

Attention Full-Time Faculty:

In the event that the Bookstore is not notified of your decision at least 30 days prior to the start of the semester, the same textbooks/course materials that were ordered for the course and section in the previous semester will be ordered.

Please note: Early textbook orders help students save money! If you submit your textbook requisition by these dates, students are able to sell their books for a higher price during Book Buy Back and more “used” books will be available to students during the following semester.

Textbook requisitions should be directed to Matt Venneman, 763.433.1323 or matt.venneman@anokaramsey.edu.

Faculty should contact faculty support staff to order a copy of each textbook for teaching purposes.

FACULTY DEVELOPMENT

Numerous opportunities for professional growth exist at the College, online, and through the System Office. These groups meet regularly for specific teaching, learning, and community-building sessions. These might include topics such as service learning, web 2.0 for teaching, a visiting author, or spotlight on an administrator. ARCC's instructional technology department hosts a variety of workshops to help integrate technology and teaching and hosts arclearn, an online resource accessible via D2L, the college's instructional management system. All faculty members are encouraged to participate in ARCC's Quality Improvement Process (QIP) for new course development or existing course design review. Other opportunities include Small Group Instructional Feedback and Peer Review of My Online Teaching Experience (PRomOTE).

In addition to these teaching and learning opportunities, professional development funds are available for individual faculty development. Contact your Dean or the Faculty Development Chair on your home campus for information about funds available. Faculty development fund request forms can be found at the ARCC Faculty Development website at <http://www.ar.cc.mn.us/facultydevelop/>.

INSTITUTIONAL EFFECTIVENESS

The Institutional Effectiveness (IE) Office conducts research and analysis in support of the planning, goals, and decision-making functions of the College. The IE office shares research findings and information about Anoka-Ramsey with the College on the shared drive at N:\ARCC Public\Institutional Data.

If you would like to make a request for data from the IE Office, first discuss your request with your Dean to determine if your request is appropriate (i.e., corresponds with departmental needs and the College's goals and planning) and that the data you are interested in doesn't already exist. After discussing your request with your Dean, please contact a member of the IE staff with your request. Make sure to allow sufficient time for your data request.
